Island

(Words: Findlay/Kerzner ~ Music: Kerzner)

Somewhere just behind the darkness
Veils a shimmering of light
And I find where the shadows fall
Shifts the labyrinth of time

I will be an island

All will quiet down

There is wonder

There is sadness

There is certainty and doubt

But really love is all around us

And we'll never be without

All the weight of the past

Disintegrates into the moment

And all sounds they resonate so clearly now

All we see without our eyes

I will be an island

All will quiet down

All hail to the silence

Take off this paper crown

There is wonder

There is sadness

There is certainty and doubt

But really love is all around us

And we'll never be without

We've never be without

All we need is

Here and now

All the synergy

That we allow

All your worries

Let them go

Just become the wind that blows

There is wonder

There is sadness

There is certainty and doubt

But really love is all around us

Forever

Never been without

All we need is

Here and now

All the synergy

That we allow

All your worries

Let them go

Just become the wind that blows

There is wonder

There is sadness

There is certainty and doubt

But really love is all around us

Forever

Never been without

All we need is
